

Chair in Education for Eco-citizenship and Sustainable Development CEEDD

Bridging the academic world with the civil society

Diane Foundation / Saint-Joseph University

Diane Foundation created CEEDD,
Chair in Education for Eco-citizenship and Sustainable Development, on September 2015, at the Saint-Joseph University of Beirut.

Eco-citizenship

Individual or collective behavior of implementing key principles and instructions that aim at preserving the environment.

A conscious Eco-citizen is well aware that each of his daily actions may have an impact on planet Earth.

Sustainable Development

An approach of economic development which main objective is to link economic and social advancement with environmental preservation, the latter being considered as a heritage that needs to be handed on to future generations.

Our Chair is characterized by the close links it establishes between Eco-citizenship and Sustainable Development

OUR VISION

To become an interdisciplinary platform of reference for eco-citizen awakening and education for sustainable development

OUR MISSION

Committed to raise awareness, educate and produce knowledge around topics related to eco-citizenship and sustainable development, in order to enlighten citizens and co-responsible leaders, through 5 different intervention schemes:

1

EDUCATION / TRAINING

Continuous trainings
(Schools, Universities, NGOs and Municipalities)
Internships
E-learning

2

AWARENESS

Seminars and Conferences
Contests
Citizen Café

3

RESEARCH

Scientific colloquia
Scholarships: PhD and Masters degrees
Publications

4

PROJECTS

Environmental and civic projects
Impact assessments

5

COLLABORATION

National and international partnerships
Steering of national meetings
Coordination between stakeholders

 SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Saint-Joseph University

Campus of Human sciences,
Damascus Road,
Building C, 4th floor

Tel: 961 | 421000 ext. 5722
ceedd-fondation-diane@usj.edu.lb

www.ceedd-fondation-diane.usj.edu.lb

